

Congratulations to all of the students who presented at the 2020 MBIM Undergraduate Research Symposium! You did an excellent job of communicating your research findings and sharing your ideas.

The judges have submitted their decisions on the best presentations on the day.

Best Oral Presentation

- Kendrew SK. Wong
Genome-wide association study of transient versus chronic infections in Burkholderia multivorans
(Directed Studies Project; Kendrew SK. Wong, James EA. Zlosnik, Mark A. Chilvers)

Best Poster Presentation

- Laurel M. Neufeld
Pre-induction of rodentium in mildly acidic gut-mimicking media increases attachment to epithelial cells
(Directed Studies Project; Laurel M. Neufeld, Sarah E. Woodward, B. Brett Finlay)
- Cynthia James, Christine Kim, Catherine Pan, Douglas Zhong
Biofilm production in Escherichia coli K30 with group 1 capsular gene wza and wza-wzb-wzc deletions is not correlated with erythromycin resistance phenotypes in liquid media
(Course-based Undergraduate Research Experience Project)

The door prize raffle winner is:

- Elaine Hu